

Tibb Online Interview Consent

The “Tibb Online interview” refers to the use of internet and/or electronic communications to deliver or render Tibb treatment services to people from various geographical locations. This allows access to information pertaining to healthcare for the broader community both locally and internationally, in an attempt to educate individuals on the Tibb approach to illness management and health maintenance.

This platform of communication includes but is not limited to video- conferencing, telephonic communications or email. The limitations or challenges associated with the “Tibb Online Interview” include internet connection, visual quality of the chosen software, information security and physical examination.

By booking for the Tibb Online Interview, I am fully aware and in agreement with the following:

- (a) The use of online services for the ‘Tibb Online Interview’
- (b) That the ‘Tibb Online Interview’ and all information provided will be treated with confidentiality.
- (c) That all assessments and management will be based on information provided by myself
- (d) And that the chosen software is not a source of healthcare nor a medical care software.
- (e) That I acknowledge the risks imposed from limitations of full vital signs, physical examination and complete medical assessment.
- (g) That it is my responsibility to secure session/s and information on my device at a private location.
- (h) That I am fully aware that my practitioner for the interview may record or take notes from the session for safe keeping.
- (i) That this service excludes emergencies or unstable patients.
- (j) That I may discontinue or stop the session at any time

Patient consent to the ‘Tibb Online Interview’ at the Tibb Treatment Centre -

I have read and understand the information provided above regarding the ‘Tibb Online Interview’ and therefore, hereby give my informed consent for the ‘Tibb Online Interview’.